Wea.

I rose this morning and found the weather calmer. The boys went to school across the fields on the east, the side roads are pretty badly drifted. I am busy sewing at Lances coat. I did not get along very fast at it as I had the lining to cut out and fit.

I rose and made the fire, we then had breakfast, I prepared the boys for school, I did the housework in forenoon and sewed some in afternoon at Lances coat. It is still pretty cold.
