

doctor on the trapping and shooting. The doctor has gone to South America for the winter. Dad suggested to Jim that he ~~take~~ Gyp up there and put Sid off by saying that Bill would train her and send her back. Sid was quite willing for her to go yesterday but as the hour of parting drew near he decided she should not go. Frank took her however and Sid was overwheeled with grief.

This afternoon I did chores and Frank let down the lane fence on the posts along the wheat so that the sheep could get in and pulled what few turnips there were and then we went out with Joe & Queen and got them. Fine day.

Tuesday November 25th

Dad was out at day-break this morning and got in a good day's plowing. Frank and I spent the day doing odd jobs. We buttoned up Moonshine's stall this morning and fixed the manger in the corner where he stood all summer and put Kate in so that he can feed her. He sold her to the other day but he doesn't want to take her yet. so said he would pay for the chap she ate if Frank would feed her. I put the paper around the little apple trees this afternoon & put them from the mice. Aunt Alice was over for a few minutes this morning and brought some salve for Sid's forehead. Frank and I went down to the J. F. L. social evening in the Sunday school to night. There was a big turnout and we had quite a hilarious time much after the fashion of the ones we had last winter. It has been mild & cloudy and rather misty all day.

Wednesday November 26th

Dad plowed from day light till dark and got a lot turned over. I spent nearly the whole day doing chores but went out for awhile and cleaned out a few ditches.

Frank has felt rather tough all day with a pain but he did a little ditching and this afternoon went down and helped Lige clean out the Sunday school. I went down to hand practice, there were about half a dozen there and we sat around the stove talking about the income tax till about nine o'clock then I went down stairs and ran across Mary so went up and spent the evening with her. I came back past the hall where there was a U. F. O. meeting going on so I asked Corby if they practiced. He said they did a little and Char. Dick took my horn home. Cloudy & freezing raw out evening.
