travel to the far country. We can only all pray that the going away may not be hard. The children are all so delighted with him that they will find it hard to part with him. I stayed until 4 o'clock - had my dinner up there - and came home and wrote to Clare & Nell. After tea Charles and I went the hill. Baby still the same. Charles went over to the station and Dorothy came home on the late train a letter having arrived in the after-noon saying she might come to-night.

Tuesday Nov. 15th Still mild but getting colder. Went up to see alice and the babes in the morning. Things still the same. Dr. came while I was there but was still there when I left. Got the meat on my way home. Wrote a
