

I have been exceedingly busy at a thousand and one things to day. The boys have got so planting come this afternoon. Went down to William Watts this morning to set a few grafts in plum sprouts & for other business. Drove up to Lincoln this afternoon to see G. Leamon further about our delivery matters. I think we are likely to get the ~~heavy~~ delivery business all straightened up now soon. Saw J. R. Hedges also about another matter this evening.

Ma and I went out to see usual morning service this morning. The Rev. Roy Smith officiated it being childrens day. The little people seemed greatly delighted as well as older ones. Had dinner at Mr. Hills, immediately afterwards we went to sabbath school, after which I went to visit some sick people. Had a precious season of prayer with Mrs. Harlow. She has just lost her husband, and has been laying at the point of death herself for some time.
