

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1870.

He worked at our manure hauling
again to day, or rather this forenoon. This afternoon Charley
went out to do so.
While I have been
splitting wood &c.
He had a quarter
of beef sent
to us this afternoon,
by Mr. Furrow.

The cold weather
still continues, and it is as dreary
as ever. Mr.
Smith was up to spend the evening
with us to night.

I am still in favour with the Al.
mighty, on account
of His wondrous mercy
at our happy in Him.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1870.

I went over to hear Eberiah preach this morning. This afternoon we are fan-
toured with an excellent discourse
from our dear baptist, J. H. G. His text was "That ye also may be one with us as we are one". There are some glorious
thoughts in connection with this subject. As Christ ^{is} ~~was~~ one with God so may we be one with Christ.
As He was beloved of the Father so also may we be loved by the Father through Christ.
What a precious result: Who can fathom
its depths & breadth?
