

Thursday November 9th

Dad and I both went back for the plow this morning after cutting enough wood till noon. We spent a lot of time when we got over in the ^{which} ^{digging} ^{with} ^{the} ^{bag} ^{off} field striking out head land furrows and dead furrows and old Harry was pittenish and Belle was mean from being in so long.
However we got on fairly well. I had a good plowing lesson. We had a great deal of trouble after dinner getting Charlotte back into the orchard as she had broken the fence. Dad then went back and plowed and I did up chores ready for night and then went back with the shovel and opened up some ditches out of the field. Dad was plowing in.
Then the cows went up so I had to go up and put them in, so I stayed and did the rest of the chores. Enah went down town to a tea meeting or something this afternoon and Aunty came back with her. We did not get through till till late. Another beautiful day.

Friday November 10th

It rained hard last night so we could not plow till this afternoon and then it was pretty mucky. We did the chores up and I cleaned out the pigeon pens.
Dad piled a lot of straw in front of the cow stall which made things much better as it would "hog a duck" (as Dad says) before it We piled the potatoes we got from Chis Lambury down cellar. Enah went down to her sister Mrs. Mrs. Pearson's and spent the day. Aunty looked after things here for her. Dad went back to plow right after dinner. I went back after I had cut some wood and done up the stove.
It was too mucky for me to have a plowing lesson so I dug ditches. I came up and brought the cows about five and did chores and helped Jack get a few apples to make cider. Tila and Margaret Mrs. Call ^{was over this afternoon} impersonating Mrs. Gerard and Pina Turner just got married to Mr. Hamer, respecting Aunty went down with them as Harry wants her to go down and stay all night as he and Aunty Hands were invited to the Hardings.
