

May, 1929.

18 Saturday. Fair and warm. Ella dug a little piece in the garden and Walter and Vernon helped her at noon and she planted onions, some gladioli, lettuce, cabbage, candytuft and Clark's seed. Walter went down to Henry Ziegler's tonight and Vernon went over to Reists.

19 Sunday. Windy and cold. We all went to Sunday school and church this morning. Vernon went home with Edwin Thur for dinner and Walter and Ella were over at Ezra's for tea.

20 Monday. Fine day. The men were cultivating and harrowing and Walter was sowing for a while. Ella worked in the garden all day and planted beets, carrots, radishes, parsley and the rest of the gladioli, also pinkes, mignonette, phlox and annual chrysanthemum. Vernon helped her at noon. Esther & Wesley came up for eggs tonight.
