

where we want to put the timothy. It took us quite a while to get ready so we only got in one load before dinner and didn't get it unloADED. We unloaded it after dinner but as we have to use the fork in the horse stable it took quite a while. We got some more in and unloaded and then about four o'clock I drove Eudora down. We went around to Miss Battersby and got a hanging lawk which Miss Battersby gave us. I went down to the station as Mary told me she was going to night but I found she had changed her mind. Dad cut alsike from about six till I had my tea and then cut till dark while Dad did chores. Nice day pretty hot.

Tuesday July 21st

I set the alarm for half past three this morning and although I heard it go off was too sleepy to get up and stayed in bed till Dad called me about five and got out to the alsike field as soon as possible and cut till after seven, but there is still quite a bit to cut yet. We got started hauling hay as soon as we could after breakfast and got two in before dinner. It took a long time to put on a load as the cocks are so far apart we have to chase all over the field to get enough to make a load. After dinner we got all the hay there was left which wasn't quite a load and got it unloaded by a little before five. Dad then went out and started to cut the wheat north of the orchard. Muly and Frank helped him shock up and as there wasn't anything very pressing for me to do Eudora Liddums and I drove down town. They went to see Clo and she went down and got some ice cream with them and I went down to the station to say good-bye to Mary. She & Perry went to night. Quite a strong breeze to day but hot.

Wednesday July 22nd

Dad took the alarm clock last night and got me up soon after half past four and I went out and finished the alsike soon after eight. Dad took Nellie Green & Joe and raked up what was cut yesterday. We didn't have breakfast till after nine so Dad didn't get much of the wheat cut before noon. We noticed this morning that for some reason the wind mill although revolving was not pumping. We surmised that some of the rods were uncoupled so Frank took Nellie & the democrat and went down and got old Felix. He was there all the after-noon and found the valve in the cylinder had gone out order but he put in a new one
