

THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1870.

We have - all hands been cutting and splitting wood to-day. This afternoon the Metchers came and set up their machine as that to-morrow we expect to thresh.
To-night I have finished straightening up our school accounts for the past year.

Shall my cry to my God is "I will not let this go until thou bless me." He that has placed on my heart this desire
- ~~to be fulfilled~~ is alone able to fulfill it, and I will not cease to plead His exceeding great and precious promises, unlike the hearing He has promised had been bestowed upon me.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1870.

We have been threshing to-day. Got one part of the job done - the piece that grew in the ten acre field, besides this we moved the machine and set it up ready for work in the old barn. We threshed out one hundred bushells of peas.

I went over to the M.
Church to-night where they have commenced a protracted meeting. There did not seem to be a very good influence, but that perhaps it will grow better, as this was the first effort.

My experience of yesterday still continues, with the same earnest pleading
