150 DAYS PAST WEDNESDAY 216 TO COME

Some Common Knee Affections—No. 1.

The lesion most common, as all physicians know, in the knee of childhood, is a tuberculous epiphysitis, familiarly known as "white swelling," and the management of such a lesion may be embraced in two terms—immobilization and protection in any and all stages of the disease. The active practitioner is called upon to diagnose a number of different lesions occurring in the adult knee, and remarks on this subject are never out of order.—Hunter; Mass. Med. Journ.

Rainy day all day long. Shed, Albert, and Boyd were here to help with mill. Body stayed for dinner and helped with bees. Took Maud to school and Maud Abell went with me to pick out a pattern. She worked at my dress, then took her home. Forgot Mrs. Thompson had to go back after her. Man here fixing mill. Mother's ankle not much better. In Cores was all to Leonard
