

then we climbed Red Mt. grade. on the other side thousands of acres of olive next stop was Fallbrook a small place. lemons and alives looked like the main crops. a little farther we crossed the San Luis Rey River Bridge & from here to Escondido not very interesting mostly ^{cattle} ranches. next we crossed Vason Lake Hodge Bridge right over the Lake another of their water reservoirs. a few miles farther the Poway grade then about 25 miles across uninteresting country to San Diego. got home at 5 o'clock. after a dandy trip our speedometer read 435 miles

Sunday Mar 13th. Taking things easy for a few days sat in the Park for a while Mar 14th. went down town after our snaps 60 in all. we took on our trip every one printed and all pretty good. also bought some abalone Souvenirs Mar 15th. Took the children both morning and after noon to the park. trying to keep them away from the bunch around here as they nearly all have the measles.
March 15th Left this morning for Los Angeles by the Coast Route. through Old Town. La Jolla. over the Torrey grade to Del Mar. had to return
