

May, 1928.

25 Friday. Fair and cool.

Harold died this morning. Walter & his Dad went to Bridgeport this morning and stayed all day. Vernon was going plowing. Ella was planting in the garden today - corn, pumpkins, sunflowers, beets, beans, cucumbers, watermelons, muskmelons, lettuce, sweet william and baby's breath. Ella set a hen on the pheasant egg tonight.

26 Saturday. Cold and drizzly.

Walter sowed some barley this p.m. Vernon was harrowing.

27 Sunday. Fair and cool. We went to church & S. F. this afternoon.

28 Monday. Dull morning.

Rained this afternoon. Harold was buried today and Walter, Ella & Vernon went to the funeral. We went in the morning and were at Vic's for dinner & supper. Rev. M. L. Wing and Rev. A. Clemens had charge of the service.
