

for Jean but found she would have to fix them herself. Visited the bookstore store and bought a book for Alice for a birthday present (birthday 45-day) and Mrs. Bell bought a picture book for Donald McKay - the little sick & helpless son of the house. Met Mr. Bell & Mr. Mickle at the Seldon House where we had tea. Then walked up to McKay's with Jean's bag and went on to the West End Methodist Church to the lecture. Saw Dr. Middlebro, Mr.
Dyer, Jack Delford, Mr. Bloch, Dora & Matie Ritchie & Miss Kate Bell in the audience. Mr. Kilbourn acted as chairman & gave a good address.
Mr. Taft gave a most excellent address on "The League of Nations." He is not nearly so stout as he appears in his pictures. He has a splendid smile & a most entrancing little chuckle. He speaks very quietly but convincingly and has a great fond of humor. His jokes are preceded by the little chuckle. Had a few minutes chat with Miss Kate
