

February 27th 1892

Sat. 27. Clear bright day, but cold, gale of the night previous about spent, about 10° below zero this morning

Sun. 28. Beautiful day. But cold

Mon. 29. Stormy, light snow from the south west, turning eastward at night turning to a heavy gale about 11 P.M.

Tue. 1. March 1st 1892.

Clear and cold, with heavy north east wind.

Wed. 2. Clear and cold, with heavy gales from north east, calm to night, Mr. A. Pringle and myself visited Thompsons paper mills.

Thu. 3. Lovely day warm, fine, at night such lovely sunset, sun dog was seen on north side of sun

March 4th 1892.

Fri. 4. Another beautiful day fine and warm, clouding over at night, having the appearance of storm

Sat. 5. Cloudy this morning turning to storm, clearing off about noon, thence fine the balance of day

Sun. 6. Most beautiful day, warm and bright

Mon. 7. Another lovely ^{day} warm and fine, clear and bright.

Singer Agent here to day, talking very unbecomingly for a gentleman, wrote to Bob, Joy, Coy, Belleville for recommend.

Tue. 8. Cloudy commenced raining about noon, turning to snow about 4 P.M., again to rain about 6 P.M., again to snow at 9 P.M. only very light fall