

sowing clover seed on the wheat and got over the twelve acres. The wheat certainly looks sick but it is still alive. In a few places it was heaved and a few small patches killed out. Frank took Alfred's spear back to him this morning and went by way of the creek. He went up along Robert John's creek and came back along Charlie McQueen and got three or four more pike and some suckers so he presented Alfred with some of them. This afternoon he made a cold frame for Eva to put her cabbage plants in, we will use the storm windows for the top. After I did up the cow-stables I walked up to Sam Thompson's again. He said I would need a barrel of Lime Sulphur but that I should have ordered it before hand. so I got Art. Quamby to telephone up to night to see if I could get it. Art. Pickford, Supper and Jack Martin were all on the land today. Jack's men were drilling this afternoon on the side hills. Frank thinks we can start tomorrow. Wind still in the north but milder.

Tuesday April 17th

Frank got out at seven with the team this morning and has been disking all day on the west half after field east of the orchard. Dad relieves him this afternoon while he came in and looked through
