Geriatric Aphorisms—No. 24.

Soft stools are more important than daily stools.

Keep dishes of water on hot air radiators and stoves in winter. The excessively dry atmosphere of houses so heated increases the dryness of the throat and bronchial tubes causing further atrophy of the mucous glands.—Nascher; Amer. Med.

Weather

Fine & cold

Temp.

I washed & put the clothes froze on the line. Mella took Luce & went for her.
Lelancee boy was here this afternoon & helped John & measure for a fence.
The Pitts are more than having a good time. Maudie is come better. John is a waiting to night, don't know where. Mr. boy took his pigs down & Mr. Leavelles
this morning Maudie //
