Mumps.

In cases with rise of temperature and severe pain sodium salicylate is the most effective remedy. Its excretion in the saliva, with its antiseptic action on the unknown organisms of the disease, probably accounts for its value. It should be combined with an alkali:—

℞ Sodii salicylat.,
Sodii bicarb., of each, gr. v.
Benzosulphinid., q. s.
Aqua, q. s. ad. ℥ss.

M. Sig.: Every two or four hours.
