The cars didn't ^{run} but twice today
they were out of power.

So the mail didn't come out till the five o'clock car which got to Kearns about 6.30
And I had a holiday.

I wrote a letter to John and told him about his taxes as follows:-

I paid his taxes	$ 363.49
Dougald paid back part	150.00
I got back what I paid for him	62.86
I took off Phil's dog tax	2.00
Leaving my payment at	158.63

The day was fine and not quite so cold as yesterday

Thursday January 27, 1921.

I delivered the double dose of mail on the whole route today Mr English fed Nell and the colts corn stalks in the paw paw thicket for the first time this winter.
Doctor Thorne was here and looked at the horses.

The day was fine and not too cold.
