

Saturday 6 6990³

Sunday, February 13

44 DAYS PAST

322 TO COME

Gastric Aphorisms—No. 3.

Delayed motility may arise from atony, hyperacidity, neurosis or pyloric obstruction. Such cases must be studied closely for several days before a campaign of treatment is instituted.

Pain or discomfort anywhere within the abdomen, along the esophagus, the pericardium or diaphragm, more marked in the upright than in the recumbent position, suggests ptosis.
—Bell; Med. Herald.

Weather

cold

Temp.

*Mr Laves went to Aylmer
& brought the mail.
Beta was with me.
Maudie had a very
restless night.*