

Wednesday Nov. 9, 1921.

I delivered on the whole route with the two Gips.

It snowed last night and at times during the day.

So that the roads were heavy and it was cold and disagreeable.

Thursday Nov. 10, 1921.

I delivered mail with the two Gips. The roads are bad and the day was cold and windy.

Friday Nov. 11, 1921.

I went over in the morning and saw the ditches in the Marden Drain and then delivered mail on the whole route with the two Gips. The day was cloudy and the roads are bad.

Saturday Nov. 12, 1921.

Mabel delivered on the first part I went to Chatham on the first car and came back on the 2.15 car and delivered mail on the 2nd part.

I saw Mr J. Bourdeaux in Chatham and he talked about Sp. flection.

It sprinkled snow in the morning and was disagreeable but cleared up.
