

Dad had to act as Chairman and Cash had to play for them. They walked on the roads all so rough and I don't know what time they got home. May and Jim hounded me into fixing their Christmas tree in place and then they decorated it, and they decorated the walls with the greens we had got last Wednesday lay down on Dicky Stephens side hill.

Saturday December 24th

Dad and I managed to get in a small jag of corn stalks this morning and then we went down to Aunt's for dinner to meet Dick who came in on the one o'clock car. He was down till about four o'clock and then we did the chores up. Dick's Aunt came over about six for tea, but didn't stay long afterwards. May and I went down town with them to-night as May wanted to take some Christmas presents to the Bagleys, but we stopped in at Aunt's and while we were there Essie came down with some she wanted to leave there for May, so we didn't have to go up town. Dick and Aunt went off but May and I went home early. Dick stayed down at Aunt's all night.

Sunday December 25th

May and I went down to Sunday school this morning but were late. Every body from our household came out to Church but much to everyone's disappointment Mr. Carnish was not able to be out. He is evidently played out completely after all the work & worry he has had, but Mr. Carnish is able to be up and around. Cousin Willy took the service and John P. Martin made a short address on the Christmas Lesson and they had the Christmas music. Dad, Cash & I went around to the Jones' after ~~the~~ Church for dinner and May & I went down to Aunt's. Dick was there too and before we got through Deas came in with something for him, so she had a cup of coffee with us. I came home right after dinner and did up the chores. Dad & May came home about four and Cash & I about six. May spent the evening fixing up candy boxes and decorations for to-morrow.

Monday December 26th

To-day we celebrated Christmas with festivities. Dad
