

April 7th Monday. My cold not much better, lying around until about 10 o'clock. and then it was a nice clear morning and decided to start. Breakfast 80¢ in a Greek place. it was rotten. more cough syrup 55¢. Films 60. Gas and oil $2.38 just nicely on our way and it started to rain again. Took a snap of the main st. before leaving.
Staunton Va. was the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson, president of U.S.A. still on Highway no 11. on up the valley through Fort Seafair. Fort Sydney.
Burketown + Mt Crawford crossed the North River several times. the road was bad in places, doing repairing and widening and after the big rains the detours were deep in mud. they had convict gangs. doing the work.

some of them chained together mostly negroes. all had guards over them with rifles then through Harrisonburg and Tenth Legion about four miles from here we turned East about 3 miles towards the mountains to Endless Caverns. we parked out side. went inside a nice building where they sold cards. souvenirs etc.
bought our tickets cost us $4.50. joined a party with a guide went down about 50 steps. and started
