

their seats the [watchr?]
in side [sic] kept walking and talking prety [sic] mu ch all the time the m eeting lasted
On fourth day 27 when they went to the meeting the house

[pg 25a]

40

[was?] locked and [Barded?]
Irons [cover?] the hinges So that the door could not be taken off Some of our friends got Something under the lower Sash
of the windown and pri de [sic] it up so that they [could?] [?] get their hands off it the out siders [sic] pulling it up and the insiders pulling down
and they soon pulled it to peces [sic] while they were this someone went to the litle [sic] door of the wood house and opned [sic] one of them and went in

[pg 25b]

41

1 mo 27 1883

Stephen Hubs took Foxs Journal home
with him to read [?]

2 mo 3 a very stormy day for the [Ranters?] to jold their quarterly meeting

3 mo 29th 1883 this day the