153 TO COME

Attacked and Consumed.

The vital elements of the blood, i.e., the red cells, are invaded and destroyed by the malarial plasmode. In such instances the construction of new erythrocytes and the reconstruction of those partially destroyed is the main therapeutic indication. Pepto-Mangan (Gude) furnishes, in readily tolerable, promptly assimilable form, the ferric and manganic elements necessary to such constructive and reconstructive work.
