Suggestions About Eye Injuries.

Penetrating or perforating wounds, foreign bodies inside the eye, and infection require a graver prognosis than other injuries, because of the resulting damage to sight and the possibility of the removal of the eye. Burns, especially from lime (which occur principally among painters in the shops), are nearly always of marked gravity.—J. A. White; Int. Journ. of Surg.

Roads very bad. I went to church had a fine sermon & also very much & I think every body did. Eugene & Mella stayed home & got dinner. Abia was here after her Sunday school was over. Eugene went for her. Then after tea Eugene took her home. We was to Clarity Arnolds for a few minutes after
