212 TO COME

Prepare the Babies for Hot Weather.

During the month of June it is a good plan to build up the general vitality of the baby, to prepare it for the coming heated term. In addition to careful attention to the feeding problem, Pepto-Mangan (Gude) can be given to advantage, as it is entirely free from irritant, astringent or constipating action. A course of this tonic reconstructive often enables a baby to pass through the hot summer without serious gastro-intestinal trouble.
