

Feb 1st 1893.

Wed. 1. Snowing this morning, quite moderate clearing off fine the rest of the day

Thur. 2. Fine winter's day, mild and sunny, Candlemas Day, the Bear must have made his appearance,

Fri. 3. Very stormy today, from the east shifting west at night and blowing a hurricane nearly all night, drifting the roads in an almost impossible condition

Sat. 4. Fine but cold, beautiful Northern Lights tonight

Sun. 5. Fine but very cold
Mon. 6. Snowing very hard this forenoon, turning to rain in the afternoon and raining off quite hard, no moving today

Feb 7th 1893.

Tue. 7. Snowing very hard this forenoon, clearing off at noon and turning very cold John Warner moved from Camden East, to Yorkton, today

Wed. 8. Cold and gloomy this morning sun coming out for a while, and clouding over again at night

Thur. 9. Cold and gloomy most all day, Wind south driving with it at night a most terrible snow storm, drifting the roads in a terrible state.

Fri. 10. Raining this morning with strong settling the snow considerable wind blowing again at about noon, with a little flurry of snow ^{fine} after