Surgical Suggestions.

In simple gas distention, with discomfort or actual pain, within the first thirty-six hours after laparotomy very often the most satisfactory treatment is a hypodermatic injection of morphine. A rectal injection of peppermint water may also be needed. Purges should be avoided. Eserine may help to get rid of the gas, but it adds to the pain.—Amer. Journ. of Surg.

Weather A fine morning Temp.

Maudie, Mella & Evelyn have gone to church. I was over this morning to see how Clarence was, he had the mumps. John was there also. We have to keep a fire in the house. Maudie & Mella went to Sunday school. John went to Eugene's to night with the horses, to help him seed. Maudie & Mella & I went over to Jim's legs again. Evelyn washes for dinner.
