

Sat. 16th

July 16th 1892.

A very large streak shot up out of the N. western horizon, which was startling to behold, giving the lustre of midday to objects on the earth and remained so for a length of time afterwards spreading and giving forth a magnificent display of colors.

Sun 17

Lovely cool day, attended church and Sabbath School. At Mr. James Harding's - night, and for my pleasure and amusement he and his wife drove me to her mother's residence where we spent an enjoyable evening.

Mon 18

Beautiful day a little warmer today, clouding over at night.

Tue 19

Dull and cloudy this morning having the appearance of rain but clearing up at evening, lovely tonight.

Wed. 20.

July 20th 1892.

Fine and clear today very cool compared to the previous week. Lugged $300. to one of the patrons, Chas. Vanhook, he having broke his mowing machine and was en route to Kingston he called in, and I freely gave him the favor. On his return home, I accompanied him to his mother's, remained there a short time, and returned home.

Thurs 21

Beautiful and mild all day. at night Mr. Clarke and myself were at James's he having prepared a grand treat for us, we spent a jolly evening altogether and feeling much better after our evening's recreation.
