

afternoon. Dorothy was down town + Gen, Ida and Vi came back with her and they had commade out of my new glasses. Very hot in the afternoon. Mr. Graham called in the evening. Charles went up to Kirkwood for her butter and Dorothy went to ask Emma's to play bridge, Walter being calling for her. Mrs. Beattie got Mr. Graham to write my address over again + Dorothy got it partly signed.

April 22nd. Little cooler. Grey day with a couple Sunday of small showers. Dorothy and her dad at church + S. S. Mother here from church time until about 3 p.m.
She thought it might rain more + went home earlier. Finished a silly book. "A Secret of the Sea" by Wm. Allison. Charles went to church at night and Allie and
