

the same place, we got the two eggs from him and the first Alita had taken and went back and found what we sus-posed to be the empty nest but although we searched for quite awhile we could find no sign of the old turkey. We brought the eggs home and got Hubby's gloves which have been back at the woods ever since the fire. This afternoon Dad lined out his ditch at the end of the ~~the~~ garden and got it started the whole length. I did chores and fooled around and Dad put in most of the day minding Tiddum who is terribly home-sick.
 Winnie came over after school while he was alone with Cousin Clare, and she supposed he thought it was Enah for ~~when~~ he was terribly disappointed when he recognized Win. To night I went down to a surprise party of Hazel Silvertown's. The sewing club was meeting at her place and she invited eight or nine boys over, we all rounded up at the bank and went over in a body. We played pedis which I don't know any more about than I do about making toads, but still I would have had a great time only my head ached and I felt rather sick for some unknown reason. We also played a lot of other games to add to the card playing score. One table blew hubbles, another cut all paper dolls, another speared peanuts in a bowl with hat pins, next played crocon, next snipped buttons and the other made some sort of rymes, we had dandy refreshments but I couldn't take much and felt so rotten before I left that I forgot to say good-night.

 Dad went down and met Enah. She said she had a great time "to the city" and enjoyed the org an very much. Tiddum was glad to see her but didn't pick up much fuss over it.
 Art. Guanhury came over to night with my incubator and her order. Nice day but rather raw.

Friday May 1st

Hubby and I put on a small load of hay this morning and this afternoon Dad hauled it over to the barn for the cows we then put on a pretty good sized load and Dad & Hubby unloaded it in the horse stable, while I took little Joe and drove Cousin Clare home. Tupper came over this morning to get Dad to put a team on the road scraper, but Dad rode down with him to Sam Jew's and got him to go on instead. Whit Dixon came in while he was gone after a pig for Bob Miller. He brought two of the most horrible looking sheep I ever saw He said Bob had shot them down in the barn in a crate and nobody fed them much except Mrs. Gate. He said Bob wanted him to bring them over here and if Dad didn't want to keep them till they got in shape to kill to have them for a few days anyway, Whit said he supposed Bob thought if he was got them unloaded here they would stay. The poor things could hardly stand up when
