

we get one more load in and leave it in the wagon we wait he able to haul any more till we finish Mary and I went down in the night and I went to hand practice and she went to Miss McQueen's to wait for me. We had a fair success, I sat with although there weren't many out. Lina was home from school to day as he is it well in some way although he seems to be all right. Another lonely day

Tuesday January 11th

Pickford came over this morning and brought the saw to kill Frank sold it for 300 per cent so he got it for $6.90. We hauled in another load of corn this morning and were also getting in with it. The mill has closed down now for a week or so they don't blow the whistle and we never know what noon is. Frank and I spent most of the afternoon husking corn. Mary washed to day. Aunt Alice came over to night before we finished her and spent the evening or part of it with us. Another beautiful day

Wednesday January 12th

I spent the forenoon doing chores and came home early for dinner and this afternoon went up to the annual meeting of the Norfolk Co. Cooperative They had a big meeting and gave back the notes that were given on the stock and changed the company to a joint stock affair still to be run on a cooperative basis. A good many of them were very hard to convince that it was a good move as they were very prejudiced against joint stock companies. but as there will be no chance of anyone getting a controlling interest their being just one vote to a man irrespective of the number of shares he has and as the profits will still be divided according to the business done as before I thought it looked safe enough and Johnson says the advantage will be that he will get a higher rating than under the old system and as he had to borrow a certain amount of capital to keep things going he might just as well be paying interest to the members as to outsiders. I took one share at ten dollars. I got a ride down with Ham. Thompson and went down to Auntie's for tea. Mary and Lila went then Mary had been at the bridge club at Mrs. McLaughlin's and won the prize. So night she and Auntie went up to the Girls auxiliary meeting and I went up to Harry Dyer's and got my hair cut. Enah and Frank went to the V. F. O. concert and they put on the same performance as they had out at the school house. We waited to come home with Enah so didn't get away till after midnight. Colin Ryan and Pickford came over and killed a ram for us this morning. He was a fine carcass. Colder to day.
