

June 19. Th 1892.

Sun 19

Raining this morning, continuing very gently until noon, but remaining mostly cloudy and threatening rain to night. alone all day, attended Sabbath School, and Church at night, being the Farewell sermon of the Rev. Theodora Commenced raining quite hard after Church Service, acting like an all night rain.

Mon 20

Not much rain the night previous. Lovely day very warm but still cloudy.

Tues 21

Very warm all day, no rain but looking very much like it.

Wed 22

Very hot cloudy to night looking like rain.

June 23rd 1892.

Thu 23

Raining most of the forenoon clearing off, lovely afternoon. Split some wood for Mrs. Cowan, and cut my foot.

Fri 24

Lovely day warm but fine went over to Mrs. Cowan and had my foot dressed. She is I find a very kind old Lady, she went to Kingston today and and bought not every thing she could think of for the cure of the cut, but my sense to be any trouble or expense to her so long as I get along all right.

Sat 25

Beautiful day, foot seems a little better, but it is still having worked right along all the time. Mrs. Cowan dressed my foot to night.
