February Thursday 24 1927

Awful winter day even if it was quite snappy. Slept in until eight o'clock then peeled potatoes and helped Mother wash, and assisted Dad with the shoes in the morning. Dad and I took a load of articles to blacksmith shop at Cannigan and walked over to see Uncle Em's horse. Trucks were here for supper but clustered at nine o'clock.

Spent the day cutting wood with me Barker and Jean at "Hazel Grove". Cleaned Lyp's off for the first time and lead her home with me at night. Mrs Barker told me about the shower for Jean on Saturday. I hope next Thursday is so nice as it was today until five o'clock.

Tuesday 22

Dad and I did the chores in the morning then we motored to Paris after we got Jean. Jean and I got our marriage license at the town clerk's office and had dinner at the Dominion Cafe in Brantford and it was a real one. Dad's hunt out to see Franklin's horse in afternoon. Did my flowers and did other shopping afterwards. Had supper with Jean and then walked home after a wonderful day.

Friday 25

Mother went to town with me when I hooked Lyp's up for the first time and got her shed at Hicks. Spent the morning in the Dentists chair. Had dinner at Barkers and then Jack, Dan, Mr Barker and I went to Brantford in the Dodge to see the Better deal train. Helped Jean separate when we came home, had supper, helped mend the piano and then drove to J. R. L. location to practice the play and back again through a nasty snow storm.

Wednesday 23

Dad & I drove to town in the morning and then out to "Bendmore" after my buggy. Had dinner when we got home, did the shoes, and then went to see horse at Elms, Barons, and Camerons. Bought my first horse from A. Cameron for $140. He is a seven year mare and is rising five years old and her name is "Fly". A real experience for me leading her home.

Saturday 26

Jean and I drove to Paris in morning. Completed my appointments with the dentist, got a haircut, and purchased gifts for the singers, pianist and the best couple. Ladies of the district gave Jean a surprise shower of wonderful gifts and I had to open them. Jean and I had a pleasant time after. Helped draw two cars out of snow banks after and then drove home after the shower was done.
