

1920 Charles at church at night and they came up with me for awhile. Slept inside.

January 26 (Monday) Practised an hour in the morning and half an hour in the afternoon. Did some short-hand. Went up to see Mr. & Mrs. Grant & Mrs. Ferguson were there. Called in to see Mrs. McQueen, who sprained her ankle at Mrs. Sanderson's last week. Mrs. Hugh Warmington was there. The ankle is not very bad. Mrs. McQueen had her chickens under the table, a cat under the stove and the most untidy room imaginable. Can't imagine how she lives in it. Duncan came up after tea to see "Life". Looked over the old classical manuscripts. I read "The Blast": much colder 5-day but windy so slept inside again to night.

January 27 (Tuesday) Nice mild morning. Practised an hour and a half altogether. Read part of "The Blast". Went down town to fit my dress. Shovelled the walk when I came home. Did some French. Called at the house to enquire how Mr. Ince's vaccination was getting along. Pretty soon again. Then went up to see
