

6990 76

Friday, April 21

112 DAYS PAST

254 TO COME

Diagnostic Aphorisms in Gynecology—No. 5.

When symptoms and signs point to an inflammatory mass in the pelvis, the channel of infection should be sought. Infection conveyed up the unbroken genital tract leads to salpingitis, pus-tubes and peritonitis; infection carried through the broken genital tract leads to pelvic cellulitis and pelvic abscess. When the symptoms and signs of a pelvic tumor are not classical, operative difficulties and complications may be expected.—Giles.

Weather

Temp.

Warm. Rained a little this afternoon. Men finished splitting the wood. Girls have been making flower garden & this afternoon went to Palmer Hall to take her music lesson. Mr. Lee & Huskins was over. Mr. Coy was here. John has been over to Mrs. Loper & night. Polly &