

May 7th 1892.

Sat. 7.

Cold, and clear this morning, with mist all day, partly cloudy this afternoon, to night is very windy and ~~cold~~ cold & cloudy.
Master Georgie Hay, presented me with a pie, the kindness of his mother.

Sun. 8.

Beautiful day, much warmer than usual, wind West in the morning shifting west in the afternoon. Had a good long walk to day, as far as the St. John Church east of here attended church and Sunday school to day, cold to night.

Mon. 9.

Most spring like of any day this season, being very warm and bright all day, wind West quite warm during the night.
Called on Mrs Cowan this evening and spent an enjoyable one

May 9th 1892.

Mon. 9.

Seeing me as she would an intimate friend, treating me to apples, Lemonade & cake, played a new parlor game and got beat by the school Teacher boarding there. Mrs Cowan presented me with some Tarts, which I found to be very wholesome.

Tue. 10.

Fine this morning, quite warm still more springlike than yesterday, becoming very hazy in the afternoon, preparing for rain, wind E, all day turning South East at evening and blowing quite hard. Saved and split a little wood for Mrs Cowan she being out of Coal, and her store wood not being short enough, for her Coal stove
