

Saturday June 14th

I got home this morning soon after midnight and found Dad and Frank both asleep, dressed, and when Dad woke up he was very anxious about Belle. He had been in pain off and on during the evening but still showed no signs of feeling so he thought some thing must be wrong. I changed my clothes and lay down and about four Dad called me as he had decided to make an examination. He did and said he was afraid there was no hope for the colt and very little for Belle. He then went to the house and called Frank to go down and get Bruce. While he was gone Belle lay down and in about ten minutes just after Dad got back had a fine big colt and both he & she are doing fine. Dad has christened him George Broadley. We planted the potatoes this morning. George and Miss Sutherland helped us. Just after dinner a heavy thunder storm came up. It didn't last long but a lot of water fell and there was a fierce little gale with it. It came out terribly sultry and hot after it. Frank and I hauled a little jing of straw over the horse stable. We all went down town to night but it was too hot to dance, we watched them. We then boys went for a swim on our way home.

Sunday June 15th

Frank, Ed and I went down to Sunday school and the rest except Dad, went down to Church. I ran across Jimmie after Church and we took a walk down to the beach. There were a lot in swimming. Jimmie was telling me that Alan & Dick Tibbitts intend to put up a hundred more bathing houses this week. Aunty and Aunty Alice came over here to dinner but left a lunch for me which I had alone down there. I spent the afternoon with Mary trying to find a cool spot. We didn't have much success but did get a shady & fairly breezy place over in Glade Park, where we camped with some Luaks. The Millmans were over here and took Aunty, Aunty Alice, George & Miss Sutherland down to Aunty where they had tea. They came back after tea and took Dad & Enah for a motor drive. Billy was with them and I guess kept them highly entertained. I came home to tea and helped do chores and went back again this evening. Frank went down to Wards on his wheel after supper.
