

believe John are all gone, can hurry

Thursday, October 7

280 DAYS PAST

85 TO COME

Gastric Aphorisms.

Acute enterocolitis is often diagnosed as typhoid fever or acute yellow atrophy of the liver. It often requires several days' observation to determine the difference. Infectious enterocolitis is also accompanied by fever and an enlarged tender spleen.

A case of hemorrhage from the stomach, occurring at irregular monthly intervals, which resisted treatment, and later showed no improvement after appendectomy, proved to be vicarious menstruation. It has disappeared completely since marriage.—Bell; Med. Herald.

Weather

Temp.

Cold & rainy looking most of the day but didn't rain after all, very cold to night. Aunt Bell sent the boy down for Peattie's & I go over to Aletas to the institute meeting. Peattie cut Mella's Mauchie's coat & fitt it to night. Mella came up as far as Aunt Bell's for us and we came home for supper Mauchie

Carpenter (Boston)

281 DAY

in posting from Pepto-M
and cer-
of hem-
gestion,
a result

Weather

rained
Aletas
their all
John
soon
all sent bulb
is ma
take