

July 3rd. Went out through national city and Chula Vista to Otay and from there to Otay Reservoir. The road was not very good, nor very interesting not very high hills, but more rolling quite a lot of land was ploughed and ready for grain. At Otay Dam it was very nice, with the water and the mountains back of them. We drove across the Dam and back, also saw the filtering plant the man in charge showed us all around it was very interesting. The water from there is what we drink in San Diego.

We came back another road through Telegraph Canyon. To Chula Vista, and home by National Avenue.

July 4th. Intended going to Ramona today but was cloudy was glad we didn't as it rained all afternoon.

July 5th. Fine in the morning, cold and cloudy after dinner. expect to go out with Clayton tomorrow
