362. TO COME

Modern Ferruginous Therapy.

The form in which to administer iron is distinctly important. The old, irritant, astringent martial medication has had its day, and properly so. The most generally acceptable of all iron products is Pepto-Mangan (Gude), an organic combination of iron and manganese with assimilable peptones. It is palatable, readily tolerable, promptly absorbable, non-irritant, and still distinctly potent as a blood enricher and general tonic reconstructive.
