

Pepto-Mangan (Gude)

is usually preferred by the discriminating physician because:

1—It does its work both promptly and efficiently—

2—It accomplishes its blood regenerative results without producing any of the unfortunate bye-effects (irritation, constipation, etc.), which so often follow the use of other iron products—

3—It is palatable and acceptable to patients of all ages.

These are pertinent and practical reasons for preferring Pepto-Mangan in all conditions in which a general "building up" regimen is indicated.

ADULT DOSE: One tablespoonful in water, milk or other non-acid vehicle, after each meal. Children in proportion.
