

Wednesday July 15th

Frank and I made the other door for the harness cupboard this morning but didn't get them put on. I then hooked up Belle and Queen to the wagon and Frank and I went down to the mill and got a bag of mixed chaff to crate fatten chickens. We went out and got the wagon box full of grass when we got home. We got Ben Suey's cultivator as we went past and this afternoon Dad and I cultivated the mangels except the far edge where it was too wet and we also went through the potatoes in the old garden. We took Ben's cultivator as it is a straight toothed one and goes through the earth without throwing it at all as our does. When we got through with that Frank and I hoed potatoes till six and Dad. Paris-greened a lot of them. So night Dad and Cash went down town to get some provisions and Lloyd Ryan came up to see Frank so I went with them back to Ben's cherry orchard where we tested a good many of the trees but didn't find any real sweet cherries but a good many real sour ones. When we got back I picked out most of the biggest cockles I could find and put 141 in the following crate. Five & Cher to day.
