

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1870.

I have had Charley ploughing today or rather this afternoon and then forenoon he finished rooling the Charley ground.

I took my pi-
per home to night
after tea.

When I took up the books of the great sage address every portion of every day in one. When I read the epistle of the beautiful every inordinate desire goes out. When I read with grief of the parables on the Pharisees, my heart melts with compassion. When I see the parable of parents that widen, I consider the necessity of giving for their ^{own} ^{benefit} ^{and} ^{the} ^{world}

THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1870.

Charley has been
ploughing again
to day and got
it nearly done.
The ground has become very hard
and dry. Yesterday afternoon we have been blessed with a little sprinkle
of rain. Our girls
are cleaning house
now and I will be glad when they get done with it.

The Conference at Leeds is now in session and from the reports they are having a glorious time. The Delegates from the W. B.
District are Rev. Dr. C. C. C. and J. Dr. C. C. C. The
