An Irishman who had on a very ragged coat was asked of what stuff it was made. "Bedad, I don't know: I think the most of it is made of fresh air."

"I cannot imagine," said an alderman, "why my whiskers should turn gray so much sooner than the hair on my head." "Because," observed a wag, "you have worked so much harder with your jaws than with your brain."

Jones, who is engaged to a heiress, calls her Economy, because she's the road to wealth.

CUTS, BRUISES, SPRAINS AND SWELLINGS are so common, and certain to occur in every family, that a bottle of Royal Yellow Oil is the best investment that can be made. It is more certain than the doctor—it saves time in sending for a doctor—it is cheaper than the doctor, and should never be dispensed with.

Speaking of cheap things—it costs but little to get a wife, but does not she sometimes turn out a little dear.

The witty Duke of Wharton having introduced a Scripture story into one of his speeches in the House of Lords, was asked by a right reverend prelate when he should have done preaching. "When I am made a bishop, my Lord," was the sarcastic reply.

Why are pretty girls like oat-meal cake? Because they are apt to give the heart-burn.

Why are birds like farmers? Because they depend on their crops for support.

Why are real friends like ghosts? Because they are often heard of but seldom seen.

Why does the minister have more wives than any one else? Because he often marries a couple at a time.

A grocer had a pound of sugar returned with this note: "Too much sand for table use, and not enough for table purposes."

At an evening party a country girl declined frosted cake, because she thought it might give her a cold.
