

then and not much
now. pop. might be a thousand but it looks
dead as ever from here to Del and same old flat. deserted country
buildings falling down
etc. De Land quite a nice looking place
turned east from here and nothing at all for 20 miles only, trees & swamps. arrived at Daytona about 11:30 a.m. crossed a bridge and drove about half a mile to the famous beach
where they have the Curtis Races. it seems some beach. it was about 200 feet wide. sometime wider as it changes

with the tides. and they say you can drive
for 30 miles on it.
we drove for about 5 miles on it. it is hard and level and the car hardly makes a
mark on it. 50 miles
was about all our car would do. a cold wind but sunny when we arrived but about 1:30 PM it clouded up
and started to rain.
so we drove around the city a little and started back home. stopped at Sunford to have another look at the zoo. saw one of the old boats
loading freight there
asked the man if
