

were pretty cheap on Tommy's terms. He offered him two skips of bees in Langstroth hives with frames and foundation comb for seven dollars and he can get them and pay for them any time he likes. It was about dusk when we got over there and Tommy was just getting started to milk, he milked two cows and then showed us around the apaire, and it was pitch dark before we left but he had started in on the other cow and had the lantern out with him. Frank and I had quite a time extrication of ourselves from Frank Repis's gully in the dark and then got our legs soaking wet in the grass on our way home. Dad & Enah were home and Dad was getting ready to worry about our absence as we forgot to leave any word.

Sunday June 25th

The whole family went down to church this morning as Mr. Renaud preached. He is here for a short visit. He used to be the rector here 41 years ago and gave a very emotional reminescent sermon. Dad, Enah & the baby stayed down at Auntie's to dinner and Quist and Dick came over here with us. They went off right after dinner to see the old fellows march and Frank left soon after to go for a ride on his wheel with Harold Taylor. I waited till for her time to eat her noon feed then took her down for Dad & Enah to drive home. I sat down at Auntie Alice's for about an hour and then started to walk home but got a ride over as far as Martin's with Charlie in his car. I helped Dad milk and then went down to church and then went around with Marjorie to the house. This was his most holy of holy right reverent Mr. J. Culp's last Sunday in the Methodist Church and I guess he gave them a long wind up sermon anyway. I had a very pleasant visit and left before any of the Bayley family appeared on the scene. I would not have left so soon but poor Marj. seemed to be rather uneasy for fear they would catch me there although she said she didn't care. I went down to Auntie's for a few minutes and found Douglas there. I supposed he had walked down with Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Renaud's daughter, who is staying with Auntie Alice & Auntie. It has been fine and hot today, regular old yellow day.

Monday June 26th

Frank went over to pick strawberries and today made #1.21. I left about nine to take Uncle Ward on his
