

February Tuesday 15 1927

Alex and I cut logs all day between Phoebe and Rosee drove two loads to the sawmill in Paris. Had my last cutterside behind. Dottie when I drove up to help Jean fix up the wedding invitations. Rotted them on my way home in the moonlight and was home in good time after a lousy evening.

Wednesday 16

A nasty wet morning so Alex and I took the boys to school in his car and then paddled the upper town and flats so far as the wheelbarrow for Ernie. It rained up in the afternoon so we cut logs and Rosee made another trip to town.

Thursday 17

Spent a few hours in both the morning and afternoon sawing pine logs in the bush next to Paynes run if it was kind of sloppy under foot.

February Friday 18 1927

Alex went to St. Catharines with Mitchell. I helped Rosee load some logs after breakfast and then drove his coupe to Edgars Churchills and got his front spring repaired. Helped load another load of logs after dinner and then helped Mae & Ernie in the afternoon.

Saturday 19

Put in my last day at "Bendmere" by choring around in the morning. In the afternoon Rosee, Ernie, & I drove into Knowles Studio to have our pictures taken along with the rest of Mrs. Daughlins Sunday school class. Rode out home with Terryburgs. It seemed funny for me to have nothing to do so helped with the chows and milked two cows.

Sunday 20

My first real Sunday for ages. Didn't get up until 8.20. Afternoon I had a sleep in the clock around. Nasty east storm so none of us went to church. Helped with the chows then as it was Vern's 9th birthday we had ice-cream for dinner then I walked down and spent a wonderful afternoon and evening with Jean and came home with Jack at twelve.
