337 DAYS PAST

29 TO COME

Susceptible of Improvement.

When properly and intelligently treated, secondary Anemia, from whatever cause, is usually susceptible of distinct improvement. In addition to nutritive reinforcement, direct hematinic treatment is usually advisable and helpful. Pepto-Mangan (Gude), in such cases, is the ideal ferruginous tonic, as it is efficient in action and yet free from irritant, corrosive or constipating effect.

Weather

A very warm Temp.

day. I went to explain & paid Mrs Campbell & Fred Love. Was in at Mrs M's & down to the Arnolds. Early was home a little while, & came back to night. Mr Cartwright had a stroke to night, or about noon. We built another little bee house & chingled it. Got letter from Auntie. Drowned today.
