When men look back to school boy days
And before the world proclaim
That their aspiration needs were sown
Not by works of men of fame.

But by their early youthful guide
Their school room's demagogue,
Then bliss will crown the closing day
Of the Rustic Pedagogue.

Richview '85